5. Accreditation Update: MUPD is now fully accredited by the Wisconsin Law Enforcement Accreditation Group (WILEAG). This certification is good for three years. Only about 10% of Wisconsin police forces are WILEAG-accredited. And there is only one other Wisconsin university police department which is accredited – UW-Madison. Chief Hudson thanked Lt. Hensley and Data Specialist Peters for their work on this project.
6. Blue: MUPD’s community outreach dog has both Instagram and Facebook accounts. He has 3,800 followers, with 42,000 engagements and over 400,000 impressions, as of June 2023.
7. Crime Statistics/Trends: Data Specialist Peters reported the following crime statistics:

8. Miscellaneous Topics

Mr. Bartolone asked about homeless people on campus, as he is receiving inquiries from employees about this topic. Assistant Chief Kranz said that homeless people will be removed IF they are on MU property.

He recommends that employees contact MUPD on the non-emergency 8-6800 number. Captain Peters offered for MUPD to come to a meeting and explain the practice/procedure.

9. Public Comments: None

5. Crime Statistics/Trends: Data Specialist Peters reported the following crime statistics:

Semi-Annual Report on Citizen Complaints.

Assistant Chief Kranz indicated that MUPD has responded to three citizen complaints so far in 2023.

In January, a homeless shelter complained that MUPD personnel did not follow the shelter's protocols in attempting to drop off an individual at the shelter. After investigation, MUPD determined that the complaint was baseless.

In August, an individual who was removed by MUPD personnel from the Milwaukee Central Library at the request of Library staff complained about mistreatment. After investigation, MUPD determined that the complaint was unfounded.

In September, there was a complaint regarding MUPD's response to a vehicle accident involving an MUPD member. The investigation of this matter is still pending.

In addition to these complaints, Assistant Chief Kranz noted two additional matters that were handled outside the normal MUPD citizen complaint process. First, a faculty member made a bias complaint regarding MUPD that was handled by Marquette's HR Department. HR found no bias. Second, the undersigned Chair passed along to the MUPD a concern from a criminal defense lawyer regarding MUPD's treatment of one of the lawyer's clients. MUPD investigated the case and determined that nothing happened that warranted disciplinary action.

7. Public Comments: None
8. Other Business: Assistant Chief Kranz described a recent incident in which MUPD officers responded to a call regarding a potentially dangerous mentally ill individual. In knocking on the person's door, officers positioned themselves carefully so as to minimize the risk of a possible confrontation. Although the person was carrying a firearm, officers were able to avoid the need to use force. Eventually, the person was talked into surrendering. Assistant Chief Kranz presented this incident as an illustration of thoughtful, effective policing by MUPD officers.
9. Adjournment: The Chair concluded the meeting and adjourned at 3:45 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Michael O'Hear
Chair, MUPD Advisory Board
